TROUBLE IN EUREKA.

The Sentinel, of the 10th, contains this paragraph:

"We regret to learn that the Richmond Company have deemed it necessary to place an armed posse in charge of their mine. It appears that the Eureka Consolidated Company have commenced sinking a shaft on their own ground in the vicinity of the Richmond; and the managers of the Richmond Company, anticipating that the Eureka Company will drift in the Richmond mine from said shaft, have taken the precaution to station an armed force under the command of W. W. Van Vliet, on their premises, to resist any attempt of the kind. We are sorry that the Eu-reka Company should have chosen a time so inopportune, while the injunc-tion still remains upon the Richmond Company, to prospect ground so near the property in dispute. We sincerely hope we are not to have the tactics of Pioche mine-owners repeated here. Every right in the case must eventually be determined by judicial action, and all parties be obliged to submit to the arbit-rament of the law. We see no necessity for such a demonstration on the part of the Richmond Company, and no especial urgency for prospecting at that particular point just now by the Eureka Company. 'Let us have peace.'

THE STATUARY. - The statuary at the Capitol, is mentioned by the Sacramento Union, as follows:

"The statuary designed by P. Mez-zara, of San Francisco, and manufac-tured of patent sandstone, as heretofore mentioned, was yesterday exhibited to the public from its position over the front portice of the building. The cen-tral figure is that of Minerva, as she appears on the cont-of-arms of the State, but standing erect; in her right hand is held a spear, while the left rests upon her shield, and a grizzly bear crouches at her feet. This figure is 10 feet 10 inches in hight and weighs 6,500 pounds. On Minerva's right sits Education, her left hand resting upon a globe, while the right holds a pencil and the arm is sup-ported upon a book. Next to Education is Industry, wearing the cap of Mercury, and surrounded by emblems of agricul-ture and manufactures. On Minerva's left is a figure representing Justice and Legislation, holding a sword in its right hand and a tablet in the left. Next to this is Mining, an Indian figure, with picks, shovels, pans, and other mining implements, together with a 'horn of plenty' lying at hand."

More Railroans.—Elsewhere appears a notice, clipped from a Nevada paper, and the same statement is made by other papers of the silver State, that Gilmer & papers of the silver State, that Gilmer & Salisbury, the well-known stage company, have bought the charter for the narrow gauge railroad from Elko to Hamilton, White Pine, and will continue the road on to Pioche. In connection with this, it is stated, that the Central Pacific Railroad Company will give substantial aid to the enterprise, end will put a force of men to work in thirty days at grading. It is also said that General Page, who has shown such enterprise and energy in building his eighteen miles of road between Pioche and Bullionville—having to haul the iron, locomotives and rolling stock from the terminus of the Utah Southern to Bullionville in wagons—has decided to comwille in wagons—has decided to commence the building of a road from Palisade to Pioche. Added to these, there are three or four lines projected from this city to Pioche; so that if the bottom doesn't fall out of that auriferous and argentiferous region in a year or two it argentiferous region in a year or two, it is likely to be blessed with plenty of railroad communication.—[Salt Lake Herald, 7th.

OUR SHARR PRODUCT .- The Salt Lake Tribune publishes our figures on the bullion product of last year, and in relation thereto says:

Some time ago we referred to the busi-ness activity that prevailed at Pioche, and attributed it then to the disburseand attributed it then to the disburse-ments for labor on mines, etc. This morning we present the secret—if such it be—of the prosperity of the Pioche folks. An examination of the figures presented elsewhere will show the yield for 1872 to be $5.359, 409.73—a most grat-ifying exhibit certainly, and one that places Ely District second to none in the West. We must be excused for feeling somewhat jubilant over such a return: West. We must be excused for feeling somewhat jubilant over such a return; the reason is simply that it proves our oft repeated declaration that the trade of that region and of our southern country is worthy the earnest attention of our Salt Lake merchants. Ely District, although in Nevada, is really commercially a part of Utah, and as such we consider our interests somewhat identical.

The Executive Committee of the Irish Confederation announce that in the tuture all fighting for the freedom of Ireland shall be done in Ireland. They propose to move on the enemy's works next Spring, and ask for money and arms to aid the enterprise.
